

HOW TO AVOID GETTING LOST IN OUR SCHOOL.

Ask Junior Kindergartener Evan Conrad for directions.

Evan began his “educational journey” in the 3-year-old, on-site child care preschool program. He’s very comfortable in school and very familiar with the building, the staff and all of the other students. After noticing he enjoyed helping his teachers and fellow classmates, our staff planned structured experiences for Evan to help cultivate his leadership skills. Because of our smaller class sizes and teacher-created assessment tools, we are able to develop personalized plans for each student that aid in growing their strengths, both academically and socially. Evan really enjoys going to school and is eager to take on new responsibilities at EL-G. Just ask him!

If you are interested in learning more about our teacher-created assessment tools, our on-site child care or how your student can excel at EL-G, please contact either principal, Debbie Hammann or Jim Brown, to answer questions, schedule a personalized tour, or even to sit in on a class or two.
